Your astro guide to March

Aries

Mar 21 – Apr 19

Goals and aspirations

Greater harmony in love and more fulfilling life goals are achievable; communication is vital and diplomacy comes more naturally than you expect. Just beware of being lured by offers that are too good to be true. You'll find your own way from the 2nd if you take pains to ignore misleading tips. Financial riddles are solved mid-month with a healthy dose of patience, and then you can aim for what you want; with charm and tact you'll out-manoeuvre a workmate's manipulations, too. From the 21st, your originality shines and yet you can conquer any opposition via sweet-natured means. As your opportunities increase, others' reactions will grow stronger. You'll now find you can make the most of some stunning networking flair.

Relationships

Conserving your resources for the people who matter most is especially useful; you'll want to extend yourself in style when it comes to your romantic life later in March. Improvements at home mean effort, but you'll share the fruits of your labour with family by the 14th. The sap is definitely rising now, whether you are single or attached; however, it is wise to listen to the voice of caution to avoid regrets later on. The second half of the month holds surprises, and honest exchanges will strengthen relationships. By the 26th you'll feel especially torn between two contrasting characters and if you have your wits about you you'll hit the jackpot. Every step of the way, testing the waters will reap rewards but there is no need to play too safe (as if you could). Popularity should mean you have a ball, and if you are still seeking love it may just find you.

Your challenge this spring

In order to cross the finishing line you can't afford to run out of steam, so pacing yourself now may well beat racing ahead at full throttle

Taurus

Apr 20 – May 21

Goals and aspirations

Nothing stands in your way when it comes to setting out on a mission, however remote it seems at first. But you must avoid wasting energy on undeserving causes. Relationships will step up a gear and lessons are to be learned from wise 'old souls'. No one should dissuade you from pursuing your heart's desires by the 10th. You'll excel at tasks that hold genuine meaning for you. With focus you'll make headway with cash, too, this March; handling colleagues carefully will pay off in unexpected ways. By the 23rd, you are more likely to see eye-to-eye with partners or 'superiors', which is helpful when personality clashes with others may arise. You'll even turn uncomfortable developments to your advantage. Having played your cards skilfully, the sky's the limit this spring.

Relationships

You may be feeling especially bold and ambitious in all areas of life, but be sure loved-ones receive plenty of quality time and attention from early in the month. You'll soon see that even home life is part and parcel of a grander vision. A mature individual – in years or in spirit – opens doors from mid-month. So heed this person's guidance however challenging it is at times. You'll learn how honesty truly is your best policy, and whatever your relationship status this will zap any stale or tired elements in relations of all kinds.

From the 20th, don't run shy of powerful personalities – tenderness, and much more, will be found where it is least expected. Now you must seize the opportunity to apply earlier lessons you have mastered, and you'll transform a relationship.

Your challenge this spring

A sudden change of heart always risks making you uncomfortable. However, letting some things go will offer untold pleasures, especially if stalemate has set in

Gemini

May 22 – Jun 20

Goals and aspirations

As the prospect of spring beckons, inspiration encourages you to follow a dream you may have postponed. Of course it is possible to build 'castles in the air', so keep your feet on the ground as much as you can and you'll attain new levels at work or in love. You'll make your mark after the 7th and achieve this by discovering what suits your talents best. Avoid wasting energy on any red herrings now and creative and financial gains will begin to show by the 17th. You can elicit help from workmates while going about your business, as networking strikes gold. Tread carefully around a few awkward situations and your options will multiply – good timing pins them down. Flexibility and quick thinking help ambitions take off faster than you might anticipate.

Relationships

Your instincts show what is best for family, friends and for you, too, this month. When it comes to personal decisions try to keep everyone in the picture on the 10th, as change then becomes an attractive prospect even for a 'stick in the mud'. By the 18th, someone is a brilliant sounding board even though certain gems of advice threaten to clip your wings. Just now you are being asked to strike a balance between thrills in a new, or on-going romance, and the need to get serious about your own personal development. It is important to keep the spark alive but overdoing the fun and games holds a danger of burnout. By late March you can expect the unexpected, as you'll acquire new tastes. Investing effort in relationships pays off in style and if you are still single by the 31st, you'll successfully play the field.

Your challenge this spring

You delight many listeners with your silver-tongued magic but gratuitous gossip can lack lustre. Economy of words this season may reveal how golden silence really is

Cancer

Jun 21 – Jul 22

Goals and aspirations

The possibility of fantasy becoming reality is March's number one concern. You'll reach new heights if you go for what you wish for most, but it is essential for you to know when and where to draw the line. A fearless attitude may also lead to plenty of spicy romantic action. After the 4th, you can afford to make a splash that shows how special you are and how deserving of recognition. Being ambitious touches one of your most vulnerable spots, but you are wise to see this as necessary growing pains. This spring, knowing your worth will pay off; by the 23rd others are only too willing to help you go further. However many objections are raised by envious friend, or foes, you must stand firm. Solid self-belief

A fearless attitude may lead to plenty of spicy romantic action works miracles, so only pursue what represents your truth.

Relationships

Being a homebody, in whatever shape or form, provides a base for launching your dreams. Relatives may confuse certain issues early in March but before long, bold moves – improvements or even re-location – will be best achieved in consultation. Mid-month's fiery exchanges indicate that it's time to ask for what you deserve. But avoid being impatient with partners – new or long-term – who are, in fact, on your side. Before long you'll decide whether commitment or romantic ideals take priority; the key is following your heart and fully understanding what that means. By the 28th, someone overthrows all kinds of assumptions. Maintaining the good fight for what you know is right attracts admirers when you need them, so there is something to be said for embracing all possibilities whatever relationship you are in, or not.

Your challenge this spring

You love making everyone feel at home and nest-building know-how is always needed. But your nurturing nature must accept that chicks will fly the coop one fine day
